

Carl Sachs

Full-Stack Developer

In December of 2019, I decided to jump into the growing tech industry, and joined Lambda School for Full-Stack Web Development. I am a motivated and hard-working individual with a knack for juggling projects in a timely and efficient manner. I pick up on concepts quickly, and love to expand my knowledge learning by experience. I am open to both remote and on-site opportunities, and would love to focus in React.js.
