Summary

For what seems like most of my life, I have worked in the service industry. I liked the service industry because I love people, and I know how they work, making creating a memorable experience that much easier. But as time went on I realized that I wanted a change, to do something completely different. I decided to jump into the growing tech industry, and joined Lambda School for Full-Stack Web Development in December of 2019. I am looking to relocate to the West Coast to pursue a career in Web Development.

Experience

Student
Lambda School

Dec 2019 - Present (8 months +)

I am currently a Student studying Full-Stack Web Development at Lambda School.

Founder
InstantStrip

Feb 2018 - Dec 2019 (1 year 11 months)

InstantStrip was a company I founded in 2018 focused on fighting the Fentanyl epidemic. The idea was simple. Drug addicts won't stop doing drugs, so help them test their substances before use, as a small amount of Fentanyl can be fatal. I sold strips, tested most effective in the market by Johns Hopkins, that detected the presence of Fentanyl to a small dosage. I stopped running the business due to pending FDA approval and legal liabilities.

Bartender/Server
Andiamo Detroit Riverfront

Jan 2018 - Jun 2019 (1 year 6 months)

At Andiamo, not only did I spend my time creating and experimenting with exotic liquors to make a drink the customer wouldn't forget, but I learned how to interact with all types of people. The Renaissance Center located downtown Detroit, MI was home to a Marriott hotel frequently used by all types of business clientele.

Server
Coach Insignia LLC

Dec 2016 - May 2017 (6 months)

At Coach Insignia, located on the 72nd floor of the GM Renaissance Center, I was a server's assistant. At Coach, we created the word professional. Everything we did had to be perfect. We once spent 3 hours setting and resetting a table for when Mercedes hosted their around the world party. My main takeaway was that the small details are what matter most.

Education

Lambda School
Endorsement, Full-Stack Web Development

2019 - 2020

I am taking Lambda's full-time full-stack web development course. Currently in the final 2 months, the computer science portion.

Wayne State University

Dropout, Business Finance

2017 - 2019

I dropped out of college to pursue other opportunities. I think the amount of money they charge for an education nowadays is absolutely ridiculous. Lambda School's system seemed much more reasonable to me.
